Emergency Off-Campus Evacuation Locations

- If there is an emergency such as a fire or earthquake, students, staff, and adults evacuate out of the school buildings to the grass field on the playground.
- In the rare case that an evacuation off-campus to a walking location is needed, the staff would walk the students to the closest park, Douglas Park or the Colorado Center Park. The staff would determine which park is appropriate based on the location of the hazard at the time. If it safe to go to Douglas Park, that is the first choice walking location.
- In the rare case that students, staff, and adults need to be bused to an off-campus location, the locations are Santa Monica High School or John Adams Middle School. These are campuses located on the south side of Santa Monica because schools in the Lincoln Pathway would likely be similarly impacted by an emergency that causes a bus evacuation.
- Students and staff have monthly emergency drills so they know what to do in the case of an emergency. Drills include earthquake, fire, shelter-in-place, and lockdown. Staff would determine the appropriate action and evacuation location based on the emergency at the time.
